Culicoides biting midges (Diptera: Ceratopogonidae) are among the smallest blood-sucking flies, with body lengths that rarely exceed three millimeters (Mellor et al., 2000). The developmental cycle of Culicoides consists of egg, four larval instars, pupa and adult (). Almost all Culicoides require moisture-rich habitats for development of egg, larval and pupal forms and the availability of these ...

Self-harm is not typically suicidal behaviour, although there is the possibility that a self-inflicted injury may result in life-threatening damage. Although the person may not recognise the connection, self-harm often becomes a response to profound and overwhelming emotional pain that cannot be resolved in a more functional way.

Rabies has a long history of association with dogs. The first written record of rabies is in the Codex of Eshnunna (ca. 1930 BC), which dictates that the owner of a dog showing symptoms of rabies should take preventive measure against bites. If a person was bitten by a rabid dog and later died, the owner was fined heavily.
